SPIRITED LITTLE WAR OVER HIGH SCHOOL EXPULSIONS IS WAGED BY THE PARENTS

LAWYERS GALORE SEEN BY ELDERS

THREAT TO TAKE MATTER INTO COURTS IS SERIOUS

THE AUTHORITIES STAND PAT

Prof. Benezet and Board of Education Will Defend Their Position

Developments to date in the high school expulsion cases:

Eight students dropped for being below grade.

On protest from parents and threat of suit, and after consultation by school authorities, students were given privilege of returning to assembly room, but are still denied access to class rooms. Five return.

Parents decline to accept this compromise, and attorneys are employed to begin suits. Afternoon is spent in consultations.

City Attorney John F. Doherty is quoted as saying he is opposed to the ruling of the board, and that the resolution should not have been passed.

Prof. Benezet stands firmly in his original position relative to the affair.

President William Luening declares the board will defend its attitude to the end.

State Law in Case.

"Section 439, Revised Statutes of 98. The board may make all rules needful for the government of the school, such rules to take effect when a copy of the same, signed by a majority of the board, is filed with the clerk; may suspend any pupil from school for noncompliance with the rules made by themselves or by the teacher with their consent; MAY EXPEL ANY PUPIL WHENEVER, UPON DUE EXAMINATION, THEY FIND HIM GUILTY OF PERSISTENT REFUSAL OR NEGLECT TO OBEY THE RULES OF THE SCHOOL AND BECOME SATISFIED THAT THE INTERESTS OF THE SCHOOL DEMAND HIS EXPULSION," etc.

War has been declared by irate parents against the ruling of Prof. Benezet, under authority of a resolution passed by the board of education, excluding students not up to grade from the high school.

At least four attorneys are either retained or have been consulted, and in three law offices this afternoon excited parents were in consultation with legal advisors. In the office of City Attorney John F. Doherty there was going on an animated discussion during the afternoon.

Mother Will Content It.

The first emphatic declaration was made this morning by Mrs. E. R. Savage, 318 North Seventh street, who said to a Tribune reporter:

"I am not against strict enforcement of school discipline, nor do I want to encourage boys to shirk work, but I am positively opposed to their being deprived of the privileges of the school and the class room, for this makes a bad mater worse and cuts off all possibility of correcting the situation. I have employed an attorney and I shall ask the courts to compel the complete reinstatement of my son."

Three out of four attorneys seen by a Tribune reporter today, all but one of whom is said to have been consulted on the case, declare that the rule passed by the board of education is not legal. The position taken by the board, although it is said not sustained by the city attorney, is that under the general clause at the conclusion of the statute permitting expulsion "when the interests of the school demands it," the ruling of the board will stand in the courts.

Prof. Benezet Talks.

Prof. Benezet's attitude is clearly outlined in the following interview:

"A majority of the parents have taken the matter philosophically and withdrawn their boys, but three have decided that their children should continue to attend the school, and the board of education has ruled that they have a right to do so.

"They will not, however, be permitted to attend any classes, and will in fact be spectators during the time they are not studying. It would be unjust to make them join the classes from which they have already been advanced on their merits, and it is too late now for them to make up the work in which they are deficient, nor can other students who are up to

TRUSTS' PUBLICITY BUREAUS ACTIVE

WOULD HEAD OFF ROOSEVELT'S REFORM PROGRAMS

LITERATURE IS CIRCULATED

Washington Bureau of
The La Crosse Tribune.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.
(By J. C. Welliver.)

The "publicity bureau" of the railroads and trusts is at work to head off the legislative program of President Roosevelt.

Literature of the "right kind" is being circulated pretty extensively from different cities, designed to combat certain particular demands that the president is expected to voice in his message. One of these is the nationalization of great corporations, another the making of an official physical valuation of the railroads.

It has been declared that the railroads spent a round $3,000,000 in circulating literature and organizing public opinion in opposition to the Hepburn measure when that proposition was pending. For two years a campaign of publicity such as has never been known outside the national campaign of 1896, was carried on by the literary bureaus of the railroads. Most of the work was done from Chicago, but subsidiary bureaus were established in other cities all over the country.

Former Efforts Failed.

In view of the lamentable failure of that campaign, it has caused much wonder in Washington that the anti-administration interests are again taking up the "tainted news" expe-

MUD TURTLES FRIGHTEN TEAM

The dray team belonging to Charles Knox ran away this morning scattering mud-turtles along the street near Gund's Brewery and running down the street for nearly a mile before they were caught by a policeman. Mr. Knox was loading turtles onto the draw and one fell near the horses, frightening them and causing a runaway.

SELLERS OF POOR MILK FINED $25

Two violators of the state dairy and food laws today entered pleas of guilty in county court and were fined $25 and costs.

H. Peterson, Bangor, Wis., charged with watering his milk, offered no defense for his acts, after pleading. "I'll pay," he said, and deposited $29.20, after the fine had been pronounced. The information alleged that the milk delivered by Peterson to the Dutch Creek Creamery company on Oct. 29 did not contain three per cent of butter fat, the minimum amount required by the statute.

G. Peterson, who was charged with having sold skimmed milk to the creamery, also pleaded guilty, but said he was not to blame. "I sell little milk to the creamery, and my wife skimmed some of it," he pleaded as extenuation. The same fine of $25 was applied by Judge Brindley, that Peterson might not feel slighted.

P. A. Larsen, deputy dairy and food inspector, Holmen, Wis., brought the complaints.

FAILS TO NOTIFY SHERIFF BURNS

A complaint was received by Judge Brindley from French Island this morning that a man named Forkrut had threatened to kill his wife and boy with a butcher knife, and that they had taken refuge with the neighbors.

The complainants were advised to notify Sheriff Burns, but did not do so.

This afternoon Forkrut left for the bottoms to secure hay. It was reported that quiet had been restored, although the wife and son are still with the neighbors.

SUPERVISORS AGREE TO RAISE $10,000

COUNTY ROAD MUDDLE IS PRACTICALLY SETTLED

INITIATIVE PLAN IS FAVORED

Though No Resolution Is Passed at the Morning Session Settlement Is Reached

A solution of the perplexing problem of county roads was reached at today's session of the county board of supervisors, when the body convened this morning, although no resolution was passed. The members practically were agreed upon raising $10,000 for road purposes, adopting the county initiative plan for raising the funds, and the town initiative plan for establishing a system of county highways.

Practically the entire morning was devoted to the discussion of the problem of roads, District Attorney Bosshard being called upon to interpret the law, explain it to the members and assist generally in bringing the board out of the mire. Supervisor Hulberg, author of the road resolution, also explained his stand, and the purposes of the law.

The resolution of Supervisor Hulberg provided for a special tax of one half of one mill on all the taxable property in the county, amounting to approximately $15,000, for road and bridge purposes. This method of raising of funds is taken in preference to the statute of 1898, under which section $8,000 was appropriated annually by the board for highways and bridges. Supervisor Hulberg's resolution was a substitute for that of Supervisor John Garbers, who still proceeded under the old statute.

Yesterday afternoon the resolution was introduced, and was brought up as a special order of business this morning.

Law Is Explained.

District Attorney Bosshard was asked to explain the law. He read the 1898 statute, under which Supervisor Garbers had planned to raise $8,000, and then read the later law, which allows a levy as high as two mills on the taxable property of the county. The town initiative plan

ROOSEVELT MESSAGE TO BE SAFE AND SANE

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Discussing the forthcoming message of President Roosevelt, Raymond Patterson, the Washington correspondent of the Tribune, says:

"There is every reason to believe this document will show the president in a new light. Every one who has seen him of late comments upon the fact that Mr. Roosevelt seems much quieter, more sober, and appears to feel a sense of his responsibility more deeply than before. He has not abandoned any of his theories, nor is he disposed to compromise with financial crooks, however high their station.

"Nevertheless, the message, from all appearances, will be a surprise, for it will be devoted largely if not entirely to a serious discussion of financial and commercial conditions. There will be nothing about it to excite the fears of timid capitalists, but on the contrary, there will be timely suggestions looking toward wise legislation to correct existing evils without a brass band."

H. H. HARRISON LEFT NO WILL

H. H. Harrison, 920 Cass street, who died on Nov. 4, left no will. Mrs. Gertrude Harrison, the widow, today filed an application in county court for the probate of the estate of her dead husband.

The application recites that Mr. Harrison left $3,000 in personal property, but no real estate.

Mrs. Harrison has been appointed administrator of the estate.

James E. Buttles, 1330 Pine street, formerly janitor at the county building, was stricken with paralysis at his home last Saturday night, and is in a precarious condition. Doctors hope for a recovery, in spite of the advanced age of Mr. Buttles.

LIBERAL TO HEAD LOWER DUMA HOUSE

ELECTION OF HOMAIKOFF IS A GREAT SURPRISE

THE ROYALISTS IN CONTROL

Sentiment of the Body Said to be With Czar, Much to Disgust of the Liberal Party.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 14.—The third douma opened at 11 o'clock this morning in Turide palace. Troops filled all the streets in the vicinity of the palace. This douma is unlikely to be popular, as it certainly will be monarchist in its sympathies to the disgust of the radical element. A majority of the legislators believe the government has not dealt severely enough with the people.

When the lower branch began balloting for president, it was thought M. Komyakoff, who had withdrawn his declination, would probably be elected, but Nicholas Homaikoff, the distinguished octoberist, was elected, causing great surprise, as Homaikoff was acceptable to the court party, which seemed to be in control.

GERMAN BAPTISTS IN CONVENTION

The German Baptists of Minnesota convened last evening in their annual fall convention at the German Baptist church, corner Seventh and Winnebago streets. The convention includes 13 cities in Minnesota and La Crosse, and the surrounding smaller villages. The meeting was opened at the church last evening, Rev. Guether of the First German Baptist church of Fairbault, Minn., giving the opening address and in his address went over the minutes of the last meeting and the progress made in the church during the past year.

The session this morning consisted principally of organizing the meeting. The reports of the various churches were read and discussed, the meeting being presided over by Rev. Benjamin Graff of the local church. At the session this afternoon further reports were read and Rev. Stouckmann of St. Paul, pastor of the First German Baptist church of that city delivered a sermon taking for his topic, "The Inner Life of the Congregation," after which the session adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Rev. E. R. Suevern, missionary of Africa, will deliver a lecture at the church this evening on the work and the way it is being conducted in Africa.

Police and Firemen Will Then Select the Men They Desire to Have Charge of the Money

A man will be placed in the hall to watch over the balloting and each member of either department, as he may see fit, during the day, shall come and vote, none of them being allowed to vote for less than three members.

WALSH'S STORY OF FRENZIED FINANCE LIMIT OF GRAFT

MADE BONDS, MADE HIS BANKS BUY THEM; BORROWED.

ON A TISSUE OF PAPER

Worthless Securities Formed Bases of Swindle Involving Over $14,000,000.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Prosecutor Dobyns today further described to the jury in the Walsh case the methods used by Walsh and declared:

"While Walsh, the honored financier, received deposits, the three banks of Walsh, the plunderer, acting at night and aided by others, juggled these millions like a car conductor plays with nickles. An illustration of his methods was the taking over of the Southern Indiana Coal company at $50,000, re-organizing it for $1,500,000 and selling the entire issue at par to his banks, while not a penny of value was added to the $50,000. He also raked off $3,500,000 on the marketable bonds of the Illinois & Southern railway, using the funds of his banks to pay for them. He bought for a song worthless stocks fictitiously quoted at a million, for ninety cents on the dollar and not contented with getting $900,000 for this unmarketable stock for one of his banks, resold it at 95 to another of his banks, and pocketed the difference, $22,000."

Dobyns cited several other instances of high finance on the part of Walsh. He coldly, calmly and without passion, related to the jury the complete story of frenzied finance that ended in the wreck of the Chicago National bank, the Equitable Trust company and the Home Savings bank. Summarized the statement is this:

Walsh, the promoter, made bonds.
Walsh, the banker, bought the bonds.

Walsh, stalking behind dummies, borrowed millions upon millions on the worthless securities and used these milions to build up his bankrupt railroads and other enterprises, until, at the climax of his career, he was shown owing to his three Chicago financial institutions $14,000,000 loaned to him on his own bonds, out of a total capitalization of about $28,000,000.

Probable Defense Shown.

At times the defense, through William J. Hines, managed to check the flow of the charges and showed their hand, and the probable line of defense, by objecting to statements made by the government. It was apparent that Walsh will seek to escape from punishment by dodging behind the maze of figures and the tangle of transactions involving his two state banking establishments and his national bank.

This is the same scheme, according to the prosecution, that Walsh played in escaping the bank examiners for years, hiding behind the national institution when the state examiners were at work, and behind the state banks when the national examiners attempted to probe.

The Government's Charges.

Briefly outlined, the government charges that Walsh did the following things:

Issued $30,000,000 of watered and worthless stock.

Loaned money to himself on this stock.

Loaned money to dummies on fictitious notes, accepting his own stocks as collateral.

Took millions of dollars out of his banks for his own use without a scratch of a pen to show that he had borrowed a cent.

Forced his bond department to buy his worthless bonds at par.

Paid the bank back principal and interest if his enterprise succeeded, keeping the profits.

Let the bank bear the full loss if the enterprise failed.

Bought bonds at low rates, sold them to his bank at par and placed the difference to ihs personal account.

Kept a private set of books in which he recorded his profits by these transactions.

HARRIMAN DEFIANT; GOV. IS FLOUTED

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The attitude of E. H. Harriman toward the government's efforts to bring him to book for certain railroad transactions was aptly set forth in the United States Circuit court yesterday afternoon when, as Frank B. Kellogg, the government's counsel, was questioning the propriety of Mr. Harriman sitting upon a committee to fix the price of stock he held and was about to sell to the Union Pacific, John G. Milburn, Harriman's counsel, broke in with "I know, but what are you going to do about it?" Judge Hough announced last night that he would not be ready to render a decision until Dec. 1.

SECY. CORTELYOU BREAKS SILENCE ON FINANCE TODAY

TREASURER SAYS HOARDED MONEY HOLDS REINS

Business Resumption Would be Complete in 24 Hours If Cash Were Let Go.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—For the first time since he became secretary of the treasury George B. Cortelyou this afternoon, at the Merchants association celebration, publicly discussed the financial situation. In part he said:

"We have learned some things recently by a trying experience. We have learned the value of credit in the business world and the value of co-operation. If any man has been guilty of a violation of trust making him amenable to the law we feel confident that the processes of the law will be evoked. New York's banks have had during the past three weeks the severest tests ever undergone by financial institutions. What they have done to stay the panic will be approved by the republic.

HON. GEORGE B. CORTELYOU.

Secretary of Treasury says Those Who Hoard Cash can Start Wheels of Business at Top Speed in 24 Hours.

Now that the financial storm is subsiding, we should turn our attention to the relief of the country at large. In the south and west, on the Pacific coast and in other sections there are heavy demands for cash for the movement of crops. I believe that if money now hoarded shall be circulated there will be a resumption of business within 24 hours.

The panic in legislation is worse than the business panic. The various plans for currency reform must be subjected to rigid scrutiny. In the great field of legislation we need fewer and better laws. Better enforcement of the laws we have and amendments to existing statutes that are admittedly defective, will do much to point out the limitations and define the liabilities. We need more co-operation among great enterprises.

As soon as the system gets under the influence of S S S the disease begins to improve, and when the remedy has thoroughly purified the blood and driven out every trace of the poison, no signs of the trouble are ever seen again. The general manifestations of Contagious Blood Poison such as falling hair, copper-colored spots, ulcerated mouth and throat, sores and ulcers, etc., are merely symptoms of the poisoned condition of the blood, and in most cases respond quickly to local treatment, while S. S. S. is doing the necessary work of cleansing the blood. Our "Home Treatment" book is of great assistance along this line. It is a complete guide for treating the trouble, containing instructions for the different stages of the disease, and also valuable suggestions about the local treatment, that will be most helpful in effecting a cure. We will be glad to send a copy of this book, free of charge, to any who desire it, and if special medical advice is wanted our physicians will take pleasure in supplying it without cost to the patient. SPORTING NEWS

TODAY WILL SEE END OF PRACTICE

VARSITY TEAM IS READY FOR THE PURDUE GAME.

STIFF PRACTICE LAST NIGHT

Forward Pass Is Improved and Osthoff and Fucik Show Form in Tossing Pigskin.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—The varsity was given a stiff practice against the scrubs at Camp Randall last night, and today will see the end of the preparations for the Purdue game on Saturday. No scoring was permitted, but the manner in which the two backs, Osthoff and Fucik, reeled off a series of forward passes gave the impression that the team will work like a scoring machine on Saturday, unless there is a material slump.

The line is working well and the coaches expect that the backs will not be prevented from using the entire stock of pass plays by opposing players breaking through the line. Dad Huntley, at left guard, is suffering from a number of bruises, but he will be in condition for the game. Rogers, at end, was in the game tonight again after several days' absence.

It is probable that Whitmore, one of the old baseball men who has been playing a good game at halfback, will be used on Saturday to alternate with Wilce at fullback. Whittaker's elbow is improving slowly and it is doubtful whether he can play.

George Sundby of Milwaukee was elected captain of the sophomore team last night. The sophomores will play against the freshmen in the annual game Friday afternoon, Nov. 22, the day before the Minnesota game.

H. H. Jacobs, a former varsity guard and now head of the University Settlement at Milwaukee, was on the field tonight, consulting with the coaches.

DR. H. CLAY EVENSON ISSUES A WARNING

The farmers and people living in small towns are daily being visited by peddlers and travelers who are seling cheap spectacles for exorbitant prices. Most of these are incompetent, and having a slight knowledge of optics, impose upon these people by supplying cheap frames and lenses utterly unfit for wear, and representing the article to be solid gold and the lenses to correct y fit.

The other day a lady from Melrose called at H. C. Evenson's office in the Park store and asked the doctor to see if he couldn't make her eye glasses stay on. The guard couldn't be made to fit at all and was sold to her by a traveler for a solid gold Shur-On mounting.

The article was a plated mounting. The lenses were imperfect and the lady couldn t see to read or sew with the glasses.

The traveler charged her a big price, and upon her recommending him to some of her friends, gave her a chain of the same inferior quality. She enabled him to get a few of her friends that day and they too, the lady says, will be defrauded, and she is to blame for it. We wish to warn the people against travelers and peddlers and advise them to go to a first class resident eyesight specialist and procure their glasses. A first class man never travels about as a peddler.

CHANGES IN SALE OF BALL PLAYERS

COMMISSION TO AMEND THE PRESENT SYSTEM

A CONCESSION TO THE A. A.

President Ban Johnson Admits Something Is Doing, But Declines to Tell Just What

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 14. — President Ban B. Johnson of the American league, while in Chicago yesterday, announced that the national commission is preparing a new rule which will make several important changes in the purchase of major league players. He refused to divulge the nature of the changes, preferring to wait until the commission has adopted the rule. American association officials consider this action of the commission in the light of a concession. The recent warlike talk of the association has been inspired mainly from a desire to secure the correction of certain injustices in the disposition of players. Association club owners are reserving discussion of the commission's new rule until it is made public.

The annual meeting of the A. A. probably will be held in Chicago on Dec. 28 and 29, and unless there are developments in the interim there will be little important business to transact. A president will not be elected, as J. L. O'Brien has two years more of a three-year term to serve.

Tom Chivington, vice president of the Louisville baseball team, says that the club is not on the market, but if a suitable price is offered George Tebeau, the owner, will sell. Chivington announces the following deals: Transfer of Roy Brashear to Kansas City in exchange for Nig Perrine; purchase of Catcher Holmes, formerly of the St. Louis Nationals and the Indianapolis club, and the purchase of Olson, infielder; Davis, outfielder; Halla and Burton, pitchers.

LEWIS S. CHANLER TAMMANY'S CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—Tammany's choice for the presidential nomination is said to be a young man of 38 years of age. This is just three years over the constitutional limit. But this by no means signifies that Tammany's choice is an amateur. Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler is now lieutenant governor of New York. He is well known as a lawyer. His mother was the daughter of the late John Jacob Astor. His father was the well known John Winthrop Chanler. At the age of 20 Chanler married and went to Colorado, where he was admitted to the bar. Later he began practicng law in this city, but in 1896 went to England to make a study of the social conditions. While there, Mr. Chanler took a special course at Cambridge university. Next he went to Ireland and for a time was interested in the publication of the famous Irish Independent. Had he so desired, he could have entered English parliament, but he would not renounce his American citizenship. He returned to America and resumed the practice of law at New York. A year ago he was nominated for lieutenant governor by the Hearst league and subsequently was placed on the democratic ticket. Mr. Chanler's presidential boom is not a sure thing. He is recognized as an aristocrat, and is regarded as representing that element of his party which backed the candidacy of Parker in the last national campaign.

OILCLOTH IS A REAL NECESSITY

Oilcloth as a household commodity is increasing the oilcloth industry to enormous propensities.

At the census of 1905 there were 27 establishments in the United States engaged in the production of oilcloth and linoleum according to a recent government bulletin. This industry had a capital of $13,803,232 and employed 217 salaried officials and clerks and 3,883 wage-earners. The expenses included $361,230 for salaries, $1,942,757 for wages, $1,369,545 for miscellaneous expenses and $10,050,009 for materials.

Seventeen Million Sq. Yards.

The value of products was $14,792,246. The oilcloths were far more important, both in quantity and in value, than the linoleums. The production of oilcloth amounted to 74,785,693 square yards valued at $9,2911,548, and that of linoleum to 16,891,462 square yards, valued at $5,328,800.

Used Mostly for Floors.

Of the oilcloths those used for floor covering were of the greatest importance, a though they exceeded but slightly the table coverings; the values were $3,554,794 and $3,540,181, respectively. The quantity of table oilcloths, however, was greater than that of floor oilcloth, the quantities of these varieties being 38,026,033 and 21,387,430 square yards, respectively. Enameled oilcloths were next in importance with 11,574,986 square yards.

Oilcloths and linoleums were produced principally in New Jersey and Massachusetts, the values of these states being $5,444,396 and $1,089,859, respectively. The only other states engaged in this industry were New York, Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Maine and Michigan.

Imports and Exports.

There has been a great increase in the imports of oilcloth and linoleum. The reports show that for 1900, 832,405 square yards valued at $407,008 were brought to this country for consumption, while for 1905 the imports were 3,508,855 square yards, valued at $1,220,372. The export trade in these commodities is of less importance. The exports were valued at $141,917 for 1900 and $269,929 for 1905. The rate of increase for the value of exports was 90.2 per cent and that for the value of the imports, 199.8 per cent.

CEMENT WALKS BOOM THE SHOE BUSINESS

That the extensive amount of cement walks now in use in La Crosse have one redeeming feature is conceded by every shoe dealer in the city. Previous to the time when cement walks were in use cobblers made a scant living and there were but few to be found, while at the present time there are a large number and all are doing a good business. Those who formerly did all the work alone and had plenty of time to spare now employ assistants and have more work than they can do. One of the leading cobblers of the city in speaking of this condition recently, said that since the cement walks came into use, and each year as more were built, the shoe repairing business had increased in a like proportion. Persons who do a great deal of walking on the business streets, where the walks are practically all of cement, are the shoe repairers' most frequent customers.

PROMINENT BANGOR FARMER EXPIRES

Ole Quall, a prominent farmer living in Bernan Valley, near Bangor, died at his home Tuesday after an illness of a few days with heart failure. Deceased was 50 years old and a prominent resident in that section of the country. The funeral will be held Friday morning at 11 o'clock from the residence and interment will take place at the Valley Cemetery.

Yale this week starts the crucial period of its 1907 football series. Next Saturday it meets Princeton, which is fresh from a decisive 16 to 1 victory over the Carlisle Indians and follows on November 23 with the annual game against Harvard. These two contests are the features of the eastern football season.

On scores it is difficult to dope a winner. In the case of the Yale-Princeton game Princeton has the advantage of comparison with one exception. Yale defeated Weslyan by a socre of 25 to 0, while Princeton defeated Weslyan by a score of 53 to 0. Yale defeated Washington and Jefferson by a score of 11 to 0, while Princeton defeated Washington and Jefferson by a score of 40 to 0. In these two cases, where the teams have met a common foe Princeton has succeeded in making the best show. In fact on total scores for the season up to last Saturday Princeton shows the best form with a total of 258 points as against 162 for Yale. In the Villa Nova games both Yale and Princeton ran up 45 points on their adversaries, but Villa Nova took on goal from Princeton. This is the sole case where Princeton gets the worst by comparison.

However, Yale's goal has not been crossed this season, while both Cornell and Villa Nova have scored on Princeton. It is thus apparent that on form the adversaries are evenly matched.

In the game which follows on November 23 between Yale and Harvard, Yale has the advantage again on dope. Harvard's goal has been crossed three times by minor schools. Yale and Harvard have met but one adversary in common, namely Springfield, and while Harvard was fighting out a desperate victory by the score of 9 to 5 Yale won handily by a score of 18 to 0.

Yale's captain is sturdy right tackle Bigelow He is shown herewith on the famous Yale fence. Bigelow is typically a Yale football product. During his prep school at Lawrenceville he failed to even make a place on the minor aggregation.

INCREASES THE GASTRIC JUICES

Three Simple Drugs That You Can Get At Any Drug Store.

Most cases of Dyspepsia are due to the insufficiency of the Gastric Juices, then the food we eat lays in the stomach as undigested matter, becomes sour and "raises Cain." In these cases the stomach needs something to increase the Gastric Juices, so our food will become properly digested. There are several Drugs for this purpose, but a Stomach Specialist gives out the following mixture of three simple ingredients that has worked wonders in many cases: Compound Tincture of Cinchona, one ounce; Prosene Compound, one ounce; Sherry Wine, half a pint. Mix together and take a teaspoonful in water before meals and at bed time.

You can get the above ingredients at any good Drug Store.

DEMAND IS MASTER.

There are a few La Crosse manufacturers who have taken the right course in the matter of seeking to have their goods dominate the home market in their respective lines. They have sought first to popularize them by introducing them to the public through the medium of advertising.

That is the right, the only logical step. It is a fact that foreign-made goods, inferior in quality, but systematically advertised, will be demanded by people who insist upon having them in preference to better things. Advertising, not quality, has created the preference, and what is the dealer to do but sell what is called for?

While we are frank to say that the majority of La Crosse manufacturers have not courted the home market as assiduously as they should have done through advertising, and that there should be made by every man who claims the right to urge retailers to promote his business, a sensible and systematic effort to create a demand for his goods through advertising, there is some serious doubt as to the merits of the plan to pool the advertising of home-made goods in a combination advertisement. Of course all the newspapers would be glad to accept the advertising, but that the clubbing idea would be fatal to that individuality that affords advertising its most valuable characteristic seems certain. There is not in this city one manufacturer who would not profit handsomely by a modest but persistent individual campaign to popularize his product through the medium of publicity. It is a good thing to have the merchant with the manufacturer through the medium of home loyalty, but it is better to control him through the compulsion of a power to which he is a willing slave. That power is public demand. Make the public call for your goods, and the retailer will sell your goods. Popularize your goods through advertising and they will occupy the front of the shelves in the store of every intelligent retailer. That is the law of business.

SPOONER.

When the then senior senator from Wisconsin, Hon. John C. Spooner, was experiencing the interview period following the announcement of his resignation from the Federal senate, he gave out in a public statement the following:

"If I wanted to stay in public life I would remain in the senate. That suits me. But I have served my country sixteen years, and I must do something for my wife and family. No, I am not going to take employment from Hill or Harriman or Morgan or anybody. That is all tommy-rot. I have not a client or a retainer in sight, and I am not going into partnership with anybody unless it is my son."

But that was away back March 3, 1907, and he may have meant it just as much as he meant the "inalterable determination" that was heard so much of on an earlier occasion. And it may be he didn't even suspect a "retainer" from a fellow like Harriman was coming then.

But it was natural that John C. Spooner should drift into the employ of men like Harriman. His acknowledged ability must have commended him to them and his life has been lived in the same business and social atmosphere the have breathed. His is the talent, the great legal mind; theirs is a crying need for the help of such genius.

Mr. Spooner will shine as a corporation lawyer as brightly as he shone in the senate. His capabilities are such that during the span of his remaining activity he cannot be kept in the background. Nor is there any wrong in his being so employed. In fact, it is right that he should, for that is and always has been his sphere. The just reason for his withdrawal from the senate was that, unconsciously perhaps, he failed there to represent his constituents. Though it may have been passively, or even in a negative manner, his support of heart and mind was always with the capitalistic element. Now the lord has his own.

SUSTAIN PROF. BENEZET.

Prof. Benezet, principal of the high school, should have the entire support of the public in his determination to fix and maintain a minimum quality of scholarship below which pupils shall not be permitted to fall through their own neglect without losing the privileges of the class room.

This is said with the kindliest feelings toward the young men who are involved in the present affair. Some of them, we doubt not all of them, are good boys. And while it is but fair to remember that boys will be boys and that in the life of almost every boy there comes a time when he underestimates the value of tuition and overvalues his own right to assert personal liberty and dispose of his own time, the fact that it is but natural for him to do so does not lessen the value of strict discipline and enforced devotion to the precious hours during which the boy is equipped with the mental culture which will stand him so well in hand when he becomes a man.

Parents love their boys, and human instinct is often so much stronger than logic that they are led into ill-considered defense of the young fellows at times when the greatest kindness to them would be in supporting the hands of the school authorities. In some way, they will figure, the boy is not at fault. But the average boy with a reasonable amount of application can master the average study course, and in pleading that deficiency in standings is not the fault of the pupil—barring only cases of illness—the parent is in fact urging that the child is below the average in mentality. While there will be few parents willing to take that stand, the one error which Prof. Benezet could have made in the case under consideration is to have mistaken a low standard of intelligence for 14-caret indolence. That, of course, is a remote possibility, as it is presumable the step was not taken without deliberate examination of the facts.

Perhaps President Roosevelt thinks it is too much like: "In God we trust, but the rest of you pay cash." Really, one can't agree with the president that that sacred emblem on our dollars is a sacrilege. If, as he says, men have scoffed at it there, so have this same class of men scoffed at it in the Holy Bible. There is reverence and there is sacrilege, and it is in the hearts of men and women, not in bibles or on dollars.

This latest "international marriage" to be is calculated to be just another episode the aftermath to which will be printed in even more glaring type than is occupied by the incident itself. Following the history of these affairs it is easy to believe that "The Breakers" will be recognized as better named at some future period than now.

If those Burlington schedules to the south have been readjusted to the detriment of La Crosse, La Crosse will see to it that the matter shall be given more judicial attention than railroads are apt to give matters pertaining to the convenience of their patrons.

There could be no mistake in La Crosse county being first in the adoption of an intelligent and scientific system of good road making In that Supervisor Hulberg will be sustained by the majority of the people of both city and county.

The Roman capitalist who decapitated his faithless wife and her paramour by stretching a sharp wire across the path of their auto elopement at just neck height, is to be congratulated upon the refinement of his vengeance.

SPOTLIGHTS

In the new melodrama, "Panama," which is a story of the great canal, nothing has been overlooked that will add to the beauty of the production or the pleasure of the public. The most magnificent scenery, the really wonderful mechanical effects, the specially composed music, the clever people engaged, all make this the one play of all others most to be desired. The story is intensely interesting, keeping the audience spellbound from the rise of the curtain until it descends on the last act. "Panama" will be presented at the La Crosse theatre Sunday, Nov. 17, afternoon and evening.

Crystal Theatre.

An increasing popular demand for the "Passion Play" pictures has led the management of the Crystal Theatre to again present them for a number of extra performances. These pictures are the best "Passion Play" films ever brought to this country and Manager Hill feels confident that in continuing their presentation he is giving the patrons of the Crystal a rare treat. Beginning with the angel appearing to Mary and continuing through the nativity, boyhood and manhood of Christ and including his crucifixion, resurrection and ascension, these pictures are indeed a wonderful portrayal and as evidenced by the large audiences which are nightly seen at the Crystal are much appreciated. They will continue through the remainder of the week, including Sunday, with a matinee each day at 3, and two performances each evening at 7:30 and 9.

QUIPS AND CRANKS AND WANTON WILES

Munchhausenish.

A wizened little Irishman applied for a job of loading a ship. At first they said he was too small, but he finally persuaded them to give him a trial. He seemed to be making good progress and they gradually increased the size of his load, until on the last trip he was carrying a 300-pound anvil under each arm. When he was halfway across the gangplank it broke, and the Irishman fell in. With a great splashing and spluttering he came to the surface.

"T'row me a rope!" he shouted, and again sank. A second time he rose to the surface.

"T'row me a rope, I say!" he shouted again. Once more he sank. A third time he rose struggling.

Then he spluttered angrily, "If one uv you shpalpeens don't hurry up an' t'row me a rope I'm going to drop one uv these things."—Ex.

Looking Ahead.

A charming young lady went into the principal stationer's shop in a county town lately and asked to see some thin note-paper. After selecting what she desired she hesitated for a moment.

"Do you make any reduction to clergymen?" she asked softly.

"Certainly, madam," said the stationer, with great promptness. "Are you a clergyman's wife?"

"N-no," said the young woman.

"Ah, a clergyman's daughter, then," said the shopman, as he began to tie up the paper in a neat parcel.

"N-no," was the lady's hesitating reply. Then she leaned across the counter, and spoke in a confidential whisper: "But if nothing happens I shall be engaged to a theological student as soon as he comes home from college this term."—Cassell's Saturday Journal.

EDITORIAL PUMPKIN PIE.

(Washington (D. C.) Herald)

Unfortunately for pumpkin pie, there is an erroneous impression abroad that it is not pumpkin pie at all, but, instead, a concoction based upon Hubbard squash. By reason of this idea the real glory of the pumpkin has suffered great discredit. As a matter of fact, the very best pumpkin pie is made of genuine pumpkin—nothing more or less. Squash pie is merely called pumpkin pie by courtesy—or, perhaps, for euphony's sake. Obviously, to call plebeian squash pie by its right name would work great hardships upon it—expose it to ridicule and uncomplimentary remarks. No pie eater of repute desires to heap sorrow upon the head of any variety of pie. All of it is very precious in the sight of those who know and understand. Therefore, squash pie—which, after all, is distinctly related to the pumpkin pie, even though it is necessarily rated poor kin—is allowed to assume the more dignified and more highly honored name as aforesaid.

The institutions that are in trouble owe their troubles not to any incidents or accidents of legitimate banking, but to gambling. The disclosures of the last few months are not of new-found evil practices. Wall street assumes the virtuous pose of being shocked by the traction scandal and the use of a chain of banks as an adjunct of stock-jobbing. These practices, known now by the public, have been known for years by Wall street and by well-informed bankers throughout the country. The cover is off now, or at least partly lifted. But the malodorous mess that has long been stewing beneath is not of new mixing.

Some people borrow trouble; others buy it by the glass or bottle.

OF HUMAN INTEREST

Now that the hunting season is open, the same epidemic of fatalities begins to have full sway. The hunting season and the Fourth of July are certainly rivals for the largest harvest of premature deaths which annually occur. And it seems as if the saddest of takings away are those which might be termed unnecessary.

Over and over again occur the same accidents, from the self same causes—the careless handling of guns or the dragging of them through the brushes, the tipping over of boats when trying to hunt and the being mistaken for a deer in the thickness of the underbrush.

In the latter case I often think there should be a law passed like the one that was passed about gasoline cans some few years ago, that every can must be painted a bright red—if the poor hunters could be so safeguarded—say with a red sweater—it might help some. What if it did drive away the game to a certain extent—better drive away all of it than have so many useful and in most cases young lives sacrificed to mere sport.

It does seem strange that boys and men as a general rule are not more careful about loaded firearms. In just a short second a precious life may be snuffed out or a person crippled for life, yet unheedingly they go dragging guns through tangled underbrush, liable at any moment to the terrible and lasting consequences of pure carelessness. The headlines of a week ago stated that the harvest of death this year so far was larger than usual and the list of fatalities would be much greater than ever before.

Why should it be so? If men that are determined to go hunting would each and every one use "extra" precautions to guard against accident the death roll would likely be much smaller. A poor mother yesterday was called upon to give up her two sons, one twenty-one years old, and an expert swimmer, by the upsetting of a canoe in Eagle Lake while they were out hunting. We read of these things and pass them by as part of the "news" and possibly with hardly a passing sigh, but think what it would mean to you and me to have this come to us; and perhaps the way in which we can do the most good after all is by thorough teaching as regards the use of firearms and by the instilling of principles of ordinary precaution and good common-sense.

GERMANY'S CANAL TRANSPORTATION.

(Baltimore American)

The cheap inland transportation in Germany has been brought about chiefly by the development of the waterways. Upon the construction of canals and the deepening of river channels Germany has expended $150,000,000 during the past twenty years. From the beginning of railroad construction in Germany, in 1835, the policy of the government has been to allow individuals great freedom in building lines, but there has been insured an adequate control over them. It is this control which enables the German government to make effective the declaration that "the aim of a healthy transportation policy should be to diminish as far as possible the economically unproductive cost of transport."

THE GIANT'S STRENGTH

BY BASIL KING

(Copyrighted by Harper & Bros.)

"If her sister Jennie were to come back to me from the Lord's own keeping," he sometimes said to himself, "I don't suppose I should have a stranger feeling of unearthliness."

There seemed to Trafford but one means of bridging over the gulf that had opened between the girl and common life; that she should marry and have children. It was impossible then for his mind not to go back to Wiltshire. There was the man for her! It was a million pities that she had not felt so herself. He would have watched over her and worshipped her. He would have been to her all that Hector was to Andromache. There were times when Trafford imagined that Paula regretted having sent him away. He was afraid to hint at it, for fear of touching too rudely what might be the delicacy of an awakening sentiment. But the fact was there, that she spoke of him often, and always in a strain of tenderness. Then, too, she had never looked so favorably on any other man, with the exception of this young Winship, for whom, after all, apparently, she had not cared.

"Lord! if it could only be brought about," he said to himself now. "I believe I should be ready then to depart in peace."

He was turning away from the window to think of his lunch, when he was suddenly arrested by an incident which seemed to him like an answer to prayer. Wiltshire himself was entering the club. There was nothing remarkable in the fact, beyond what was passing in Trafford's mind. Wiltshire was a member of the Travellers', and it was natural that he should be in Paris at just this time of year. But Trafford could not see it so. Long ago he would have called it one of his lucky chances. Now he could only feel that Wiltshire had been "sent."

The two men shook hands with a sincere effusion which meant more than pleasure in each other's company. Each was an actor in the other's drama, and the interrupted play could begin again.

"This is lucky," Wiltshire exclaimed. "I thought you were in America."

"I meant to go, but I didn't. I found that George could look after what was to be done just as well as I. He's there, with Laura and their youngster. Paula and I are at Versailles. You must come out and see us."

"I should like to. In the mean time, can't we have lunch together? Then we could talk a bit."

"All right, but not here. There'd be too many fellows interrupting us."

In Trafford's tone there was a hint of confidences to be exchanged to which the Duke was not insensible.

"Let's go to Henry's he suggested. "That's where they feed you best just now."

It was in the minute of going out to take a cab that each found leisure to note the changes that seven months had produced in his companion.

"By George, he's improved!" Trafford said to himself. "I believe Paula would see it. He's better-looking, and he's smarter, and he's got an expression in his face that was never there before."

"I wonder what's aged him so?" Wiltshire was asking, silently. "He's like a man who's had some great shock. I suppose it must have been grown old in half a year. He looks Mrs. Trafford's death."

The scraps of conversation after they had ordered lunch were as the tuning of the fiddles to the playing of the piece. Wiltshire talked of his trip to the Cape, and gave his views on South Africa. He shifted to the Dolomites, where he had been in August, and passed on to tell of a few days' shooting he had just had in Hungary.

"Now I'm on my way home to slaughter birds at Edenbridge. I suppose Alice and I must have some people there."

"I expect you're very keen on it," Trafford hazarded.

"Not a bit. If there was anything better to do, I shouldn't go. Let me give you one of these eggs, a l'ecossaise. You'll find 'em good. The fact is, Trafford, I can't stay anywhere. I'm on the jump. Wherever I am. I feel as if I should be more at peace somewhere else. When I went out to the Cape, I thought that if I could only get away from Europe I should be all right; and yet, bless you, I hadn't been there a day before I was mad to be back again in England. But, Lord! England is the last place I can stay in. If ever I do take a week at one of my places over there, Alice passes a procession of virgins before me, as if I were King Ahasuerus."

"Well, you'll marry one of them in time."

"No, that's done for. I'm one of those dull men with whom such things go hard. It's just a year ago, isn't it, since we first spoke of—of—something that never came off?"

"If you don't mind my saying so, Wiltshire, I always thought you gave up that fight rather easily."

"Do you mean—?" Wiltshire began, with a jerk.

"No, I don't. I don't mean anything more than I say. In business we generally keep at a thin till we do it. In love—"

"In love there are two sides to consider. In business you have only your own."

"But I've always understood that the business of love was to make the two sides one."

"When you can. I was under the impression that I couldn't. May I ask you if you are of another opinion?"

"My dear boy, I have no opinion at all. All I know is that since you left Monte Carlo last February my little girl has been a different creature. There's something the matter with her still. I don't know what it is, but it's clear she isn't the same."

"Do you mean that she's unhappy?"

"I shouldn't go so far as that; and yet if I did I don't know that I should be very wrong. To me it seems as if she were living in another world. She goes and sits for hours in the park of the Petit Trianon—my little place touches it, you know—and when she comes back the look in her eyes is like that of some sweet soul strayed out of paradise. I don't know what to say to her or how to talk to her—I'm damned if I do."

Trafford made fierce lunges at his slice of pre-sale, and ate savagely. Wiltshire did not eat at all. He sat reflecting for a few minutes before he spoke.

"I've been under the impression," he said at last, "that there was something between her and young Winship, the painter."

"Oh, pshaw! There was nothing in that," Trafford declared, gulping nervously at his Chablis. "What could there be?"

"Only what might not be unreasonable between a girl like Miss Trafford and a handsome, idealistic young chap—"

5834 Pattern for a "Buster Brown" Bull Dog, One Size.

PATTERN FOR "BUSTER BROWN" BULL DOG 5834.

The love of animals is so deeply implanted in every child's heart that no toy can be quite so certain of a welcome as the one that takes the form of a dog or cat or some other familiar creature. Here is a bull dog that is delightfully realistic and which can be made with very little difficulty while the joy that it will carry with it is beyond computation. The legs and head are jointed so that they move in a quite delightfully natural manner and if the material be fur plush of some appropriate color, a very charmingly natural effect can be obtained. This one is made of brown short haired plush but he could have white paws and a white breast if a more elaborate doggie is desired and he can be varied in a number of ways. Even simple cotton flannel will make a most acceptable and satisfactory toy, the one essential being something soft and tempting that can be hugged and caressed with satisfaction. If a replica of the "Buster Brown dog, that makes the favorite toy of the season, is desired a muzzle with leader can be purchased from any dealer and arranged over the head.

The dog is made with the body portion, legs, head and tail. The legs and the head are all attached with removable discs and the tail is sewed into place. Stuffing can be excelsior, cotton batting or any soft material that may be at hand. Shoe buttons form the eyes while the eyebrows and the mouth are obtained by a few skilful stitches with heavy black rope silk. If a mottled effect is liked it can be obtained by painting the plush in spots with black or with white or one of the mottled plushes can be used.

The quantity of material required for the dog is ⅞ yard 27 or ½ yard 52 inches wide.

The pattern 5834 is cut in one size only and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

A Useful Cyclone Cellar.

"I see you have a cyclone cellar?" said the New York man visiting a western friend.

"Couldn't get along without it."

"Have many cyclones here?"

"No, never."

"Why is the cellar so useful, then?"

NEW SEWER FOR MONITOR BREWERY

CITY INSISTS IMPROVEMENT BE MADE THERE

WILL ABANDON "SINK HOLE"

Sewage From the Brewery Will Not Be Carried Off Into Marsh, Thus Improving Sanitation

A crew of men was set to work today laying 14 feet of eight inch pipe from a sink hole, just south of the Monitor brewery, to the marsh on the east side of the causeway. At present the sewage system of the brewery ends at the sink hole, but the board of public works has compelled the brewery to connect their sewer with the pipe that is being laid by the city and all of the sewage will be carried directly to the marsh. As soon as the work of laying the drain pipes is completed the old sink hole will be filled in, thus adding much to the sanitary conditions of the neighborhood.

VOTING BOOTHS UP ON NORTH SIDE

Voting booths have been put up in the Fifth and Nineteenth wards. This action was taken by the board of public works in preparation for the election of two new aldermen to take the place of Aldermen Schulze and Valentine, who have resigned.

While the council has taken no action, as yet, in regards to the calling of a special election for the filling of the places made vacant, it will in all probability be taken up at the next meeting, and the board deemed it advisable to put up the booths before snowfall. By doing this the booths can be put up at about half the price that it would take to set them up late in the year. The election will probably be ehld in January.

Schulze's place was made vacant by ——emoving from the ward, and ——ntine's by his leaving the city.

10,000 MEN ON MILWAUKEE WORK

J. A. McIntosh of Milwaukee, in charge of the extension work on the Pacific coast line of the Milwaukee road, will pass through La Crosse tomorrow en route to look over the progress of the work. There are 10,000 men on the job, mostly Americans, and the contractors expect to rush the work through the winter.

"For the first time in two years we have all the men that we want," said J. A. McIntosh. "We usually have a difficult time in getting help, but this year has proven to be an exception. I expect that all the rails will be laid by the first of spring.

After the rails have been laid of course, there will be other work to do, but the laying of the rails will permit the road to run trains and to get t use of the road."

NEW WAITING ROOM IS NEARLY READY

The work on the waiting room of the City Railway company at the corner of Loomis and Livingston streets is nearly completed and the room will be ready for occupation in a few days.

The fact that a room has been built is received with great satisfaction by the patrons of the La Crosse and Onalaska lines as they will no longer be forced to stand in the cold or rain waiting for a car.

MEN RECEIVE CHECKS TODAY

Today was pay day on the Burlington and while some of the men were dissatisfied with the plan adopted in paying off, the majority saw the necessity of such a procedure. The men received twenty dollars of the salary due them in checks that are good at any of the local banks, while the remainder was paid in checks payable through the Chicago clearing house.

There seemed to be some misunderstanding as to when they could receive the amount of the clearing house checks. As a matter of fact they are as good as the rest. The clearing house checks can be deposited at the local banks and a check book received by the depositor, and he then can pay out whatever is necessary with checks.

CROSSING AGAIN BURDEN OF REPORT

PROGRESSIVE LEAGUE THREATENS TO PROSECUTE

MILL ST. STILL DANGEROUS

Arrangements Are to be Made for the Annual Banquet of the League After Jan. 1st.

At the regular meeting of the North La Crosse Progressive league last evening in Woodman hall, Rose and St. James streets, C. C. Looney of the banquet committee reported that he had made arrangements with the ladies of the North Presbyterian church to take charge of the supper if the club so desired. They will not be able to do so however, until after the first of January as they have too many other matters to attend to before that date.

Nothing definite was arranged as to a date and notifying the ladies as to when the event would be held. The church will have charge of the supper and plates will cost about 50 cents.

Speakers for the evening will be invited by the banquet committee.

Railroad Committee.

A. Foster reported for the railroad committee and said that he had talked to Mayor Anderson in regard to having the street car conductors go out ahead of the cars and flag the crossing. Secretary H. L. Partridge read a letter which he had received from Superintendent P. C. Eldridge to the effect that nothing would be done for some time at the Rose street bridge, on account of the fact that the company had decided to change the arch and that the best that the company could do until the bridge had been remodelled, was to appoint a flagman to take charge of the crossing all night, which had been done.

The accident of Tuesday evening was then cited and it was shown that the fact that there was a man at the crossing did not tend to offer further protection in the "Death trap" as one of the members called it. It was also brought up that the conductors were not supposed to flag that crossing on account of the fact that there was a man there. Mr. Foster, of the railroad committee, believed that it would be a good plan to also have the street car company ask their men to flag the crossing.

Mr. Foster said that he had seen the mayor and other city officials in regard to what could be done at the crossing.

A report was requested from the North side freight depot committee which was not ready to report.

In citing the Tuesday evening matter it was shown by the club that the accident should not have occurred; that the gates should have been down and that the man there should not have closed them after the car was on the crossing.

One of the members moved that a committee be appointed to call upon the mayor or the city attorney and the district attorney in regard to the case and that if the law was on their side to begin action to prosecute.

It was stated that the state law requires men to flag over all crossings, but that the railroad has the preference in holding them.

Council Action.

Attorney P. W. Mahoney of the Milwaukee road, said a resolution was passed in the city council about two years ago that the street car company should flag over the Mill street crossing, but, he says, they have not complied with the order.

The resolution which was as follows, passed unanimously July 36, 1905:

"Resolved, by the mayor and common council of the city of La Crosse, that the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co. be required to keep a watchman at the Mill street crossing day and night, and be it further

"Resolved, that the La Crosse city street railway be required to send a flagman ahead of its cars before crossing the tracks of the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co., on Mill street. In the day time with a red flag and at night with a red lantern."

The Mill street crossing has hardly ever been flagged by the street car company and the Milwaukee road has not had a watchman there until during the last few days, so neither of them have complied with teh resolution.

DEBATE UTILITY BILL TONIGHT

The question for debate at the Franklin club this evening will be "Resolved, that the utility bill which was passed at the recent session of the state legislature was a mistake."

The affirmative will be debated by Paul W. Mahoney and the negative will be upheld by Assemblyman Dr. T. H. Miller.

The assistants on both sides have not yet been appointed.

It will be pointed out to the jury that the utility bill is a step toward centralization of power, and that it is taking the power out of the hands of the people. The affirmative will also argue that the people of a city should decide what they will pay for rates of lighting and what the water rates should be, and that they should leave such matters to their actual representatives in the common council.

It is understood that the debate will be a warm one. District Attorney Otto Bosshard is also one of the debaters.

CLUB TO HAVE CENSUS READY

The regular meeting of the St. James club will take place next Sunday evening in the St. James school hall.

It is believed that all the census reports which were to be taken by members for the use of the bishop who is to send them to Washington would be out by that time.

The matter of a banquet will also be further taken up.

The club now has 65 members. It is understood that it will be limited to 100.

DEPUTY SHERIFF KILLS PRISONER

SHOOTS MIKE SCHNEIDER DEAD DURING A STRUGGLE

CAPTURED AFTER HIS ESCAEE

And During Ride Back to Sparta the Man Attacked Deputy, When Fatal Shot Was Fired

SPARTA, Wis., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Deputy Sheriff George Mannell shot and killed Mike Schneider, an escaping prisoner, yesterday afternoon, during a desperate struggle near the Crowley farm, a mile south of Sparta.

Schneider was a Jewish tramp and had been arrested on a charge of assaulting a young girl near Melvina, Wis. He had been locked up in the Sparta jail to await trial by Judge Fruit of La Crosse, today.

Yesterday Schneider was taken from the prison with a gang of prisoners to help rake up the courthouse yard, and at a moment when the guard was not looking escaped. The other prisoners were herded back into their cells and Deputy Mannel started in pursuit of the escaped man in a buggy. He came up with Schneider near Leon, a small place near here, and started back to Sparta with teh man in the bugy beside him.

When they reached a point a mile south of Sparta, about opposite the Crowley farm, Schneider gave the deputy sheriff a violent push out of the rig, and leaped out on top of him. A desperate struggle ensued, in which Deputy Mannel drew his revolver and shot the prisoner dead.

The bullet entered Schneider's right side and went through his body. Death was practically instantaneous.

The body was brought back to Sparta and is now at the city morgue.

Deputy Sheriff Mannel is so unnerved by the affair that he can scarcely talk in a coherent manner and beyond the foregoing details of the tragedy nothing is known.

Schneider was a stranger in this vicinity, having been picked up upon the charge from Melvina, and is supposed to have been an ordinary vagrant.

A BURNED FOOT VS. SKIN DISEASE.
The Same Method which Cures One Cures the Other.
If you were to burn your foot, common sense would tell you to apply a remedy to the injured part at once; you would never think of taking medicine into the stomach to relieve or cure a burn on the foot. Why, then, should those suffering from Eczema or other itching, burning diseases dose the stomach to cure a disease that is in the skin only? This method was common a few years ago, but modern science has discovered that skin disease is only skin deep and not caused by bad blood or a disordered internal system.
Skin disease must be treated in the skin. D. D. D. Prescription, the discovery of Dr. Decatur D. Dennis, is a mild, soothing liquid that is applied direct to the itching, burning parts and gives instant relief, strikes at the root of the disease, kills the germ that causes the trouble, therefore effecting a permanent cure. After a treatment with D. D. D. Prescription the skin is left clear and smooth with no trace that the disease ever existed. After that the patient should wash in the D. D. D. soap.
"I can recommend your D. D. D. as a complete cure for skin disease," writes Luther A. Carson, of Level Road, Ala. "It cured me in ten days."
We have accepted the agency for D. D. D. because we know the merit of the remedy. Hoeschler Bros. If you call you will receive some valuable D. D. D. booklets on bathing and general care of the skin, even if you do not require D. D. D. Prescription.

WORTH $2000.00 The Know How.

When a man happens to be late to breakfast he is liable to cripple himself for the morning's work by eating so fast he can't digest it or perhaps go with but half enough.

If he happens to know that he can get all the nourishment he needs for length of brain and body, and get it in a few minutes by eating Grape-Nuts and cream, he's all right. A Mass. man writes:

"About 9 years ago I was taken with a pain in my back and legs that got so bad I had to rest two or three times on the road to work. Finally, after trying various doctors and hospitals, I had to give up my work and go to the country.

"I spent most of my money this way, tried electric belts, too, but all to no good. They called it rheumatism, but after reading up a good deal on the subject, I came to the conclusion it was a weakness of the nerve centers, and began to look for something to strengthen them.

"By chance I got a package of Grape-Nuts and read the "Road to Wellville" I found inside. After eating a few packages my lameness began to get better and finally left me which is worth at least $2000.00 to me.

"I can now work hard, walk as far and as quick as most men years younger than I am, which is 60. When my friends come to visit me I give them the booklet, "The Road to Wellville" with the advice that they'll get there if they travel that road." "There's a Reason." Hanchette and Miss Grace Edwards alternated with Mrs. Van Steenwyk and Mrs. Finch in serving coffee and salad. Their assistants were the Misses Katherine Martindale, Eleanor McDonald, and Louis Gund. Ice cream and punch were served in the reception hall by Mrs. W. R. Montague, Mrs. Ora Austin, Mrs. E. O. Edwards and Miss Gertrude Hogan. Their assistants were the Misses Dorothy Hixon, Helen Anderson, Margaret Taylor, Ellen Hixon, Gretchen Salzer and Charlott Colman. There were many handsome toilets and the ladies looked unusually well. All enjoyed the pleasant social hours which were void of formality.

PLEASANT REUNION OF FRIENDS

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. George Burton received a telegram from Miss Elsie Lincoln, which said that she would be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Burton for the evening. So the telephone was kept busy for a while, inviting in former friends of Miss Lincoln, who eagerly responded, for it was too great a treat to miss. Miss Lincoln was on her way from Winona, where she gave a musical recital and took this opportunity of spending a few hours with old friends. She has been singing for a number of years in Mrs. Eddy's church in Boston. It was an informal evening, Miss Lincoln singing several numbers in her delightful way, which were much enjoyed by her friends. She left on the midnight train for her home in Iowa.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

SUPERVISORS NOT PLEASED WITH FARM

COMPARE POOR HOUSE WITH INSANE ASYLUM

WILL BUILD ONALASKA ROAD

Bugbear of Several Meetings Is Settled by Appropriation of $4,500; Vote on Onalaska Bridge

By comparing the condition of the county poor farm and the county insane asylum, the committee on poor and insane of the county board of supervisors administered a mild rebuke to the county almshouse.

William Dwyer, chairman of the committee, introduced the report yesterday afternoon. The committee reported visiting the asylum and poor farm on two occasions. Each time the asylum was found in excellent shape, while the report says the poor farm was "in good condition" the first time. On the second visit, the report reads "in fairly good condition," while the asylum report reads "in A No. 1 condition."

The report of the committee was adopted.

Repair Onalaska Road.

One old bugbear of the supervisors was dissipated yesterday afternoon, when the city members, and those residing north of La Crosse, by a vote of 29 to 7, appropriated $4,500 for the repair and straightening out of the crooked Onalaska highway. Supervisor Wolf introduced the resolution, carrying an appropriation of $3,000. He explained that the town of Campbell had purchased the land for straightening out the road. The property is near the Line house. The resolution provides for a committee of three, of which Chairman Keppel is to be chairman, to supervise the work.

Supervisor A. N. Moore, Onalaska, amended the resolution, by increasing the amount to $4,500. He believed $3,000 was not a sufficient sum, and asked that the amount be increased. In event all of the $4,500 is not used, the remaining funds will be returned to the county. The amendment of Supervisor Moore was adopted 24 to 10.

Several members of the board did not favor repairing the road but were willing to appropriate a sufficient sum to build a new highway. These members were in the minority and failed to block the passage of the resolution.

To Vote on Bridge.

The road and bridge committee, on advice of the district attorney, reported that the question of the construction of a bridge over Black river at Onalaska, must be left to the people of the county at a general election, as allowed the board to decide on the election question. The committee recommended that the people be given a chance to vote on the problem. The report was adopted.

B. F. Oltman, county superintendent of schools, read his fifth annual report of the county schools, which showed all to be in a prosperous condition. About three eighths of the children of the county fail to attend the schools twenty weeks in the year as required by law.

Of the county schools, three enrolled fewer than ten pupils, two between ten and sixteen, five between fifteen and twenty-one, seventeen between twenty and twenty-six, fifteen between twenty-five and thirty-one, eleven between thirty and thirty-six, eight between thirty-five and forty, ten between forty and forty-six, six between forty-six and fifty-one, and five more than fifty.

The county superintendent placed a value of $87,825 on the county school buildings, and the apparatus has a value of $11,515.

Reports Convention.

The school convention last January is reviewed carefully by the superintendent, while the growth in attendance at these county gatherings also is shown. The meeting this winter will be held early in December.

Superintendent Oltman summarized the laws pertaining to schools in the report, and asked that the report be published that the teachers and school boards might receive a copy, and become acquainted with the laws. A new statute increases the minimum term of school from seven months each year to eight months.

The report was adopted, and the superintendent allowed his expenses for attending the county teachers' convention at Superior, Wis., last May. The superintendent also was allowed $20 to purchase a mimeograph machine, which he asked.

MRS. LLOYD'S CASE AGAIN POSTPONED

The case alleging the passing of bad checks by Mrs. Aimee Lloyd at Rochester was yesterday postponed until Nov. 20. The woman entered court but said nothing, her attorney arranging the postponement. It is presumed that her case is to be taken up by the grand jury, as the December term of court comes soon after her hearing.

MEN QUIT WORK.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14.—The National Cash Register company of Dayton, O., the biggest plant of its kind in the world, has laid off two thousand employes. Lack of sufficient money to meet payrolls is given as the cause, but the general business of the firm was said not to be impaired.

TRUSTS' PUBLICITY BUREAUS ACTIVE

dient. But copies of numerous documents have been received by officials watching the drift of things, which show what is going on.

Especially is the proposal to make a valuation of the railroads to be brought under criticism. It is urged that such a thing as a valuation of the railroads is inherently impossible; that nobody can tell or find out what they are worth. This seems funny to the interstate commerce commission, but it is seriously presented. Further, it is urged by opponents that a valuation if it could be made would be dangerous because denagogues would take it as a basis from which to initiate all sorts of attacks on the values of railroad securities. Still another class argues that it would be very expensive, and when finished absolutely useless.

Issue to be Large.

It is recognized that whether the president in his message asks for a valuation or not, the issue will be large. La Follette is ready to force consideration of it at every possible opportunity, and Senator Dolliver of Iowa is reported to have been spending much of his vacation in work on it, being convinced that something of the kind must soon be added to the railroad legislation.

The interstate commerce commission with perhaps the exceptoin of one member believes the valuation ought to be made. The senate committee on finance and the senate committee on interstate commerce will turn up strongly opposed to such policy. The house committee on rules will likewise just as earnestly oppose such a measure unless the president and Speaker Cannon include it in their protocol for the government of the session's business. Thus far it is understood they have not got together and made terms, the speaker being incensed that the president shouldn't support him for president, but should be for another man.

For Valuation Bill.

The house committee on interstate commerce is likely to be for a valuation bill. Colonel Hepburn, its chairman, has strongly declared himself on some kindred points and it is believed will line up for the valuation. But he will go no step beyond the demands of the president, and will not be found asking the committee to push out such a bill unless the president is committed to it and uses pressure to get it.

The constitutional lawyers are going to be busier than ever before. The early bureau literature shows this. It demonstrates the unconstitutionality of pretty much everything proposed on any subject—federal incorporation, federal license, valuation of railroads, control of capitalization by the general government, etc.

AGED HUSBAND WAS CRUEL AND INHUMAN

Charging Walter Greene, aged 78, her husband, with cruel and inhuman treatment, Anna Greene, aged 39 years, yesterday was granted a divorce by Judge Fruit in circuit court. The couple were married Jan. 22, 1890.

Mrs. Greene alleged that Green so severely beat her that she was sick for fifteen weeks, during which time her mother had to attend her so constantly that she did not take off her clothes for fifteen weeks.

Whitehall Divorce.

Bertha Smith secured a divorce yesterday from Charles G. Smith. Both are from Whitehall. They have two children, one of whom is unnamed.

Franklin announced to the court that he will not be ready with the response until tomorrow. The court said he would be ready to receive it this afternoon.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, appeared before Judge Rosalsky in Part I of the court of general sessions yesterday to plead to six indictments handed down on testimony of several little girls. A further adjournment of pleading for one week was granted.

BOARD HAS FINE DINNER YESTERDAY

MEMBERS AND OFFICIALS AT THE POOR FARM

LOOK OVER IMPROVEMENTS

Party Discusses Improvement of Roads in the Vicinity and Then Visits the Jail

After adjourning at the morning session at 11:30 yesterday the members of the county board met on the west steps of the court house, where several pictures were taken. Following this, the board and county and city officials were driven to the county poor farm, where an excellent dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gilfillan.

The supervisors inspected the farm after dinner and found the building and grounds in good condition, the new buildings especially. The new cold storage recently constructed attracted favorable comment. The board also inspected the roads in the vicinity of the poor farm, which need improvements to protect them from the floods which sweep down the valleys from the bluffs each year, and resolutions providing for these improvements will probably be introduced before the session finally adjourns.

On the return trip the board visited the county jail, where Sheriff Chris Burns escorted the party through the building, showing the several places in the jail where prisoners had attempted to cut away the bars to escape. The jail was found to be in excellent condition. After visiting the jail the board returned to the court house shortly after 3 o'clock and reconvened for the afternoon session.

DEPARTMENTS TO ELECT TRUSTEES

ments ample time to call and vote.

Three days after the election of the trustees has taken place the members of the board who were elected, and the mayor, treasurer, comptroller and the chief of the police department or the chief of the fire department, according to the respective board, must meet and organize and hold an election of officers.

Each board will then have charge of the pension fund of their respective departments and shall decide what investments shall be made from time to time and who is to be benefited by the fund.

What the Fund Comprises.

The fund of the police department comprises all the money which is derived from dog taxes, 1 per cent of liquor and all other licenses which are collected and 1 per cent of each man's monthly salary.

The benefits derived by the members of the department from the fund are many.

The state law provide that in case any of the members are injured so as to be totally disabled, physically or mentally, that they must receive upon the date of their retirement, one half the amount of their monthly salary.

The principal purpose of the fund however is that when a member is killed or dies in performance of his duties or dies after 10 years' active service in the department, for any cause, his widow and the minor children receive one third his monthly salary, $6 for each child under 16 years of age per month until they are 16 years old.

The fund of the fire department comprises all the taxes which are derived and received by the treasurer from the fire insurance companies and their agents, and also one per cent of each man's salary.

The benefits derived are practically the same as those in the police department.

grade be retarded on their account. They were not retrograded because they were incompetent, but because they were way, way down, receiving no more than 65 per cent in cases where 10 per cent more was the minimum required to pass them."

Board Will Stand Pat.

President William Luening, of the board of education, said this afternoon that the board would defend its position, and that the rule as passed would stand unless some higher authority directed otherwise.

WEDDED LAST EVENING.

Knute Kittelosen and Miss Christina Dahl, daughter of Mrs. C. Dahl, 410 Mississippi street, were married last evening at the home of the bride's mother. The services were conducted by Rev. J. Clemens of the Holy Trinity English Lutheran church. Mr. Louis Dahl acted as best man, while Miss Clara Dahl, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor. A wedding supper was served following the ceremony, after which the newly married couple left for a short honeymoon in the east.

MRS. ROMADKA'S CASE FRIDAY.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The case of Mrs. Evelyn Romadka is set for disposition in Judge Brentano's court on Friday. Mrs. Romadka, it is believed, is willing to escape the ordeal of a trial by pleading guilty, but her counsel, John F. Donovan of Milwaukee, may demand a hearing before a jury.

What a lot of misery must be endured by the man who thinks that everybody else is dishonest.

was explained and the board advised that it could not proceed under this system, because the towns had appropriated no funds, as required. It is too late now for the towns to do this, and this plan of procedure was dropped.

The district attorney advised the board that it must proceed under the county initiative plan, which allows a levy between one-fourth of one mill to two mills, the election of a highway commissioner, as soon as practicable, and the adoption of a county system of highways, as soon as practicable. The district attorney said the levy might be made now, and the system adopted and the commissioner chosen at a later date. Charts of the system of roads also must be filed with the county clerk, and others, and presented to the board for consideration.

Must Raise Tax.

Upon interrogation by Supervisor A. N. Moore, District Attorney Bosshard said it was mandatory to levy the special road tax at this session, but not mandatory to elect the commissioner and adopt the system at once. If the tax is levied, the system of roads also must be adopted, but this can be done in December or in March.

Supervisor Moore informed the board that the road and bridge committee, of which he is a member, desired to report as soon as possible, and the delay has been caused in the committee becoming acquainted with the law. He said the committee would report at the December meeting.

Another phase of the problem also was discussed, the opinion being rendered by the district attorney that the improved roads may revert to the towns after the improvements have been made, and that the towns bear the expense of keeping them in repair.

Taxes Are Burdensome.

After the discussion of the new statutes, and a satisfactory explanation to the board, the motion of Supervisor Hulberg was read. It provides for a tax of one-half of one mill, meaning about $15,000.

Supervisor R. W. Davis cautioned against too heavy tax levies, and asked that the amount be decreased. Supervisor Davis declared taxes were becoming burdensome. Several other supervisors followed on the same tack.

Supervisor Moore asked that the assessment be made three-eighths of a mill. Supervisor Hulberg said this was satisfactory. Three-eighths of a mill tax will raise about $10,000. The author of the resolution explained the figure was placed at one-half of a mill, and that if all the money was not used this year, it would be expended in the year following. Supervisor Hulberg was willing that the amount to be raised be decreased.

At this time the board adjourned for the annual junket to the La Crosse county insane asylum. The members were about ready to pass the three-eighths of a mill resolution. The work will be taken up in the morning as a special order of business.

Table Bounties.

The vote of Chairman Keppel today tabled a resolution of Supervisor Wolfe for a rearrangement of the bounty basis. The resolution called for a bounty of twenty cents on pocket gophers, fifteen cents on striped gophers, one cent on English sparrows, fifteen cents on crows, twenty-five cents on hen hawks and fifty cents on rattlesnakes. To do away with too much work in making out single certificates, the resolution provided that at least twenty-five sparrows must be brought in at once to secure bounty, and at least three gophers.

Supervisor Hulberg spoke against the resolution, fearing an army of small boys appearing in the city armed with air guns and "beanies." Supervisor Moore moved for the tabling of the resolution.

Supervisor Wolfe explained his position, and told of the injury done to crops by gophers, hawks and crows, and the nuisance created by the English sparrow. In Supervisor W. E. Bradley the sparrow found a firm friend for he advised protecting the little animal. Supervisor Dwyer co-incided with Supervisor Wolfe in his beliefs.

An viva voce vote failed to settle the question. On an aye and no vote, the vote stood 18 to 18, when Chairman Keppel voted in favor of killing the resolution, thus ending it.

Kill County Fair Aid.

A resolution of Supervisor Bradley to appropriate $500 for the La Crosse County Agricultural society, which is $4,000 in debt, was killed by a 22 to 15 vote.

The board immediately turned about, and granted aid to four blind people in the county in the sum of $100 annually. Following are those granted aid on recommendation of the committee on poor and insane:

B. Hyde and wife, Patence Hyde, 1029 Caledonia street.

Emma Marie Saxer, 929 South Fifth street.

Henry H. Weiler, 520 St. Andrew street.

Not a dissenting vote was cast against this charitable work.

Off to West Salem.

At 12:35 o'clock the board left on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road for West Salem, Wis., where dinner will be had at the county asylum, and an inspection of the grounds and buildings made. The board will return tonight, and reconvene tomorrow morning for the last day of the session.

REDECORATE CLUB FOR THANKSGIVING

HANDSOME QUARTERS WILL BE FINISHED FOR "FEST"

TURKEY CONTEST; BANQUET

Will Be Features of Thanksgiving Eve Annual Stag, While Weekly Doings Have Been Arranged

Decorators are at work in the Elks' club entirely redecorating the place, and the work will be completed in about a week or ten days. When finished the Elks' club is expected to be one of the most handsome clubs in this part of the country. The work will be finished in time for the annual Thanksgiving eve turkey contest and banquet, Nov. 27.

The reception hall and main parlor are to be finished in three tints of green, while the buffet, grill and card rooms will be finished in tapestry and brown. The billiard room will be in a deep red.

Arrange Turkey-Fest

A meeting of the committee of the Elks appointed to take charge of the arrangements for the annual turkey-fest and banquet Thanksgiving eve, held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the club and arranged the details of the event. The committee was divided as follows: Music and decoration, G. B. Frederick and W. V. Kidder; turkey contests, W. O. Hosly and G. B. Frederick; banquet, W. V. Kidder and Jake Becker; invitations, W. V. Kidder.

Weekly "Doings."

It has been decided by the stag entertainment committee to hold some sort of entertainment for the members of the club each Saturday evening during the coming cold weather. The first of these will be next Saturday, when Walter Goetzinger, the blind pianist, and hot Dutch lunch will be the drawing card.

This committee, together with the members of the committee of the club which has charge of the dances and events in which ladies are included, are contemplating joining their efforts and giving the ladies as well as members an opportunity to enjoy a real "stag" which will include a select entertainment and will probably conclude with a dance.

Memorial Service Dec. 1.

The committee in charge of the Elks' memorial service has engaged an orator from St. Paul. The services will be held in the theater Sunday afternoon if possible, and the public will be invited to attend.

70 MILES OF PIES HER RECORD.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 14.—"Concentrate your mind on the oven," says Miss Teresa McDonald in explaining the wonders of her art in pastry cooking. She is just celebrating her golden anniversary as a cook and owns up to the proud record of 394,000 pies baked in forty years at one restaurant, besides scores of other dainties. If all her pies were laid out in a row they would reach seventy miles. She has made 2,000,000 doughnuts in twenty-seven years and 788,400 puddings.

KILL CATTLE BY GUILLOTINE?

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 14.—The use of the guillotine and of electricity in killing animals for food in place of the methods now in use was advocated in a paper read by Henry Bergh of New York before the American Humane association here today. It was the second of a three days' conference which is being held here by the association.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

READ BIBLE AS DEATH APPROACHES

CONDEMNED MEN FIND SOLACE IN GOOD BOOK

ARE HEEDLESS OF FATE

Appear at Ease, Although Two Must Mount Gallows in February—Hope of Pardon for One

BEMIDJI, Minn., Nov. 14. — The sheriff has not yet been officially notified of the date of the execution of Martin S. Munn and Peter Mathiesen, which has been set by the governor for Friday, Feb. 7. It is expected that the warrant fixing the date will reach the sheriff's office some time this week, and will be read to the condemned men, who were convicted of murder in the first degree at the recent session of the district court and sentenced to be hanged by Judge McClenahan.

Both Munn and Mathiesen, who are occupying the same cell in the county jail under the constant vigilance of Julius Dahl and Andrew Johnson, the death watch, which was set immediately after the sentence was pronounced, have been acquainted with the date on which they must expiate their crimes on the gallows.

Neither showed any more emotion when informed than though acquainted with the fact that it was a nice day. The men have nerved themselves up to meet their fate bravely and are possessed and resigned.

Criminals Read Bible.

Mathiesen has been receiving religous consolation from Rev. Mr. Stromme, the local Norwegian Lutheran minister, and spends most of his time reading the Bible and a copy of the new testament in the Danish language. The minister has impressed upon him the necessity of confessing his crime before God and man in order to save his soul, but Mathiesen remains firm in his statement that he has told all, and that the killing of his friend and companion was an accident.

Munn has also been the object of the solicitations of ministers of different denominations, and while he spends some time reading the Bible he says nothing that would indicate that the word has made any impression upon him. Munn has a number of friends at Warroad, who, according to the Warroad Plaindealer of last week, will attempt to have his sentence commuted. They dwelt in a lengthy article that he had not premeditated the murder of Franklin, and spoke of him as having been a mild-mannered, sober and industrious citizen while making his home there.

The attorneys for Mathiesen will also make application to the state board of pardons to have his sentence commuted.

The executions, if carried out, will be the first double hanging in Minnesota for 15 years, and much interest is taken throughout this section regarding what action will be taken when the cases are taken up before the board of pardons for review.

NAB MURDERER IN FAR-OFF AUSTRIA

BILLINGS, Mont., Nov. 14.—The old proverb that "murder will out" again has proved true, it is alleged, and although thousands of miles intervened between the scene of the commission of the brutal crime and the little village to which Nicholas Mocz went from here, he now is in custody awaiting the necessary papers which will compel his return to America.

About eight months ago the body of a dead man was found a few miles west of this city and when brought to the morgue it was identified as Miron Papa, an Austrian laborer. Friends of the murdered man stated that he had left a railroad grading camp in company with Mocz, who disappeared at the same time the body was found. Papa was known to have had more than $200 when he left camp, while Mocz was virtually without funds. A few days later Mocz, it is alleged, turned up in Chicago with plenty of money.

A letter from the royal consul general to Austria to Chief Talgo of Billings states that Mocz is now in custody at his former home and asks that the necessary papers be furnished that he may be extradited.

STEAMSHIP AGENT SLAIN

AU SABLE, Mich., Nov. 14.—John Ferris, assistant agent on the Osceoda and Au Sable steamship company's dock here, was shot today by a robber and died this afternoon.

Ferris was alone and unarmed when the man entered and demanded the money in the office. He refused and was shot in the abdomen and back, the man escaping with a few dollars.

Ferris managed to drag himself to a telephone and notify the central office of his company.

C. N. McDonald, a pioneer resident of the city, is reported seriously ill.

Mrs. Geo. Holmes of 618 State street, left on the Burlington today for Minneapolis to visit her daughter, Mrs. C. Oatins.

A safe way not to lose money in investments is not to have any to lose.

COURT TO DECIDE IF MAN HAS SMALLPOX

DOCTORS DISAGREE AND USE THEIR FISTS.

ENTIRE CITY IS AROUSED

Civic Dissension Is Caused as a Result of Difference in Diagnosis of Prevalent Malady.

YANKTON, S. D., Nov. 14.—If disagreement among the doctors is a sign of long life for the patient, J. M. Smith of this city ought to live to make Methuselah look like a lost two-spot, although the contention at present is that he may not live at all. In the meantime the courts will be called on to decide whether Mr. Smith has the smallpox, or at least whether a physician who says he has or hasn't has a right to knock down a brother practitioner who says he hasn't or has. Incidentally, Mr. Smith continues ill, and the citizens are taking sides with the doctors.

When the first suggestion was made that there was a smallpox patient in town the authorities began to consider taking action to prevent the spread of the disease. The nature of Mr. Smith's ailment was made the subject of dispute, however, and a special meeting of the common council was called, at which different doctors who had been asked to visit the patient were called on to give their opinions as to the nature of his ailment. The discussion waxed warm, then grew to a white heat and in the midst of the argument, it is alleged Dr. E. M. Doyle sprang up and knocked Dr. Rudgers down with a blow of his fist.

As a result of the attack the case has been taken to the courts for decision. It will come up today, and the wrangle will be fought through to the end, as local physicians consider that their professional reputations are at stake.

NORTHWEST BRIEFS

ABERDEEN, S. D.—The Wagner, Lake Shore & Armour Traction company, the concern that recently secured a franchise to erect an electric light and power plant in this city, intends to organize a new company to carry on the operations here. It will be known as the Aberdeen Light and Power company and will have a capital of $200,000. Representatives expect to begin building operations before the close of the present year.

SAUK RAPIDS—The last market day of the year in this city drew hundreds of farmers here from the adjoining country and sales were heavy at the big free auction. The stores all did a record-breaking business.

PIERRE, S. D.—The Buffalo County Telephone company, with the intention of constructing a general system in that and adjoining counties, is the latest to incorporate, capitalized at $25,000. The incorporators are all Gann Valley men, being J. V. Drips, Arthur G. Hill and George W. Frazer.

MILLER, S. D.—One township in the county has put telephones in the school houses. The question is receiving attention. In one or two instances teachers at their own expense have put them in the schools.

PRESTON, Minn.—District court convened yesterday and will continue in session about two weeks. The first case on trial is a $20,000 damage suit against J. C. Mills, former county auditor and now a prominent stock breeder.

ST. PETER, Minn.—As a result of the action of the state board of control in rejecting the bids for the construction of the proposed tubercular ward at the St. Peter state hospital for the insane it will not be possible to begin work on the structure this fall.

ST. CLOUD, Minn.—John Schaefer has sworn out a warrant before Justice Donohue for the arrest of T. K. Hasbrouck on the charge of conducting an auction within the city limits without a proper license.

ALBERT LEA, Minn.—Scarlet fever has made its appearance in the city, and several cases have been discovered and isolated and the board of health is hopeful that the disease will not become epidemic. The cases thus far are not very severe but there is no relaxation of precautions. It has been some years since there has been a serious outbreak of a contagious disase here and the quarantine rules are being well observed, as people are alarmed lest the disease become prevalent.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia. — Clive Buck is wanted here for alleged complicity in the murder of John Lepley of Clifford last July, for which Bert Pell now is in jail awaiting trial. Buck was indicted with Pell, but the indictment never was made public until today. He disappeared soon after the murder and never has been arrested.

BENSON, Minn.—The 14-year-old son of Anton Enge, living about 12 miles south of Benson, was accidentally killed while out alone in a boat, and failing to return search was made and his body was found in the boat. He evidently had been pulling the gun towards him, as nearly the full charge had gone through his heart.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia.—A search of the home of J. H. Ball, the father of Owan Ball, the young man who was arrested on Saturday on suspicion of having robbed the L. C. Abbott hardware store Friday night, resulted in the finding of a large quantity of property belonging to Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hoag. The Hoag home was robbed last summer while the family was out of the city.

DES MOINES, Ia.—Worthington and Boynton, the Polk county tax ferrets, have uncovered a quarter of a million due Polk county in taxes by the Iowa Loan and Trust company. Ex-Senator Thomas Cheshire declares the claim good and the county treasurer will attempt to collect it.

BURLINGTON, Ia.—Many persons who in the past depended on raffles around Thanksgiving time for their turkey, goose or duck ofr the big day feast, will have to pay the usual price per pound this year, instead of getting a bird easy.

IOWA CITY, Ia.—A number of suits have been filed in the district court, among which was that of the Davenport Malt and Grain company vs. the nUion brewery and Graf Brothers of this city. The suit is for $445, interest and costs. This amount, it is claimed, is one-half the amount due for a bill of merchandise.

OTTUMWA, Ia.—By the accidental discharge of a shotgun while hunting near the river in Center addition, John T. Burtlow, 32 years old, had the greater portion of his left foot shot away, which made it necessary ofr the member to be amputated close to the heel.

ARMSTRONG, Ia.—Hon. A. C. Rankin is in Armstrong conducting a series of meetings in the interest of temperance.

MUSCATINE, Ia.—Miss Stella Winn was painfully injured at her home when endeavoring to place a picture on the wall. She lost her balance and fell from a chair.

GIRL KIDNAPED FROM SCHOOL

NEW POINT, Ind., Nov. 14.—Flossie Mitchell, the 8 year old child of a farmer, was kidnaped by a stranger from the public school today and more than a hundred men are now searching for him. He drove up in a buggy just as school was dismissed and asked the child to ride home with him, saying he was going by her father's house. He drove in the direction of her home, but turned into another road.

A Hard Debt to Pay.

"I owe a debt of gratitude than can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark, of Westfield, Iowa, "for my rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough quit before the first bottle was used, and two more bottles made a complete cure." Nothing has ever equaled New Discovery for coughs, colds and all throat and lung complaints. Guaranteed by O. T. Erhart, druggist, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

BEAN GROWS IN MAN'S EAR, TAKEN OUT BY OPERATION

MARINETTE, Wis., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—An operation was necessary to remove a bean from the ear of Jack Eberly, a farmhand of Napper, this county. The bean had sprouted, and the operation was necessarily a delicate one. Eberly and several companions were throwing beans at each other and one lodged in the youth's ear. By the time he went to a doctor, the bean had become a small-sized plant. His hearing faculty is not impaired.

HAS MRS. ROMADKA ETHIOPIAN SOUL?

SPIRIT OF AFRICAN HAS ENTERED HER BODY

SO DECLARES EXPERT DOCTOR

Says Woman Cannot Resist Impulse Which Shows Itself in Desire to Steal

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 14.—Has the spirit of a dead Ethiopian entered the body of Mrs. Evelyn Romadka, charged with a series of daring robberies.

Around that question yesterday in Chicago, there centered a strange series of events with the woman who is confronting a term in the penitentiary or confinement in an asylum.

She prepared for arraignment yesterday afternoon and just before the hour of the calling of the case the chances were that she would plead guilty of larceny and take the prison sentence. However, previous to an announcement to that effect on the part of her leading counsel, Attorney John F. Donovan of Milwaukee, there had been doubt all day long as to whether or not she would change her plea of guilty at the last moment and take her chances on an insanity trial.

See "Obsessional Insanity."

Former Assistant City Attorney Samuel Herren and Dr. Axel Gustafson, who has treated the woman in the jail, argued with Attorney Donovan to have the woman brought to trial on a plea of "obsessional insanity," brought about by the spirit of an Ethiopian criminal having entered her body. Attorney Donovan, however, insisted that the woman plead guilty.

Mrs. Romadka was arraigned in court at 9:30 a. m. yesterday, but owing to the absence of Attorney Donovan at that time she asked that her case be set until afternoon.

She was pale, and while the court and Assistant State's Attorney Robert Turney arranged the necessary formalities to continue her case she sat trembling in a chair. Only once did she speak and this was to ask that the case be continued until the arrival of Attorney Donovan.

She pulled the coat sleeve of Detective Sergeant Lawrence Howe, who was in court as a prosecuting witness, and said, "Tell the judge, please, I want to wait until my lawyer comes from Milwaukee."

While in the courtroom Mrs. Romadka was urged by Dr. Gustafson to withdraw her plea of guilty and make a fight for her freedom.

SIX ARE KILLED AT FATAL CROSSING

FOUR INJURED IN TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

FLYER STRIKES WORKMEN

Northwestern Limited Ploughs Through Crowd of Men Leaving Work; Trail of Death

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 14.—Six people were instantly killed and four were injured when a southbound Chicago & Northwestern flyer ploughed its way through a throng of laborers coming from their work at the Bucyrus Shovel company plant to the station at South Milwaukee, at 6 o'clock last night.

The bodies of five men and that of a boy were hurled through the air by the flyer, the mangled remains striking and injuring four people in a large crowd, which stood upon the station platform.

Following are the dead and injured:

The Dead.

CHARLES KOSLOWSKI, watchman, South Milwaukee.

JACOB JARSKI, laborer, South Milwaukee.

JOSEPH VATCHKOWSKI, alborer, South Milwaukee.

——— ORHOLSKI, laborer, South Milwaukeee.

———, water boy, aged 13 year, South Milwaukee.

———, laborer, aged 25 years; South Milwaukee.

The Injured.

Dr. H. H. Nadig, city physician of South Milwaukee; rib fractured, bruised about body; will recover.

Mrs. H. H. Nadig, wife of Dr. Nadig; ankle broken.

Mrs. Daniel Bauer, South Milwaukee; leg fractured and fracture of shoulder, bruised about head and body; condition serious.

Mrs. George Fadle, South Milwaukee; wrist broken, bruised about back.

Swarmed Upon Tracks.

The terrible tragedy took place just at the supper hour, when hundreds of laborers and office employes of the Bucyrus company were leaving the factory for their homes.

When the train known as "the 6 o'clock skoot," north bound, which carries the office men and laborers who live in Milwaukee to their homes, pulled up to the station, a throng of laborers was waiting for this train to pass.

As the "skoot" stopped at the station, the crowd hurrying to get to their homes, chatting and laughing and joking because the day's work was over, surged upon the southbound track.

A Furrow of Dead.

Before the men could cross the tracks the southbound flyer, hidden by the other train, was upon them.

There was a rush, cries of warning which were turned into cries of horror from the people upon the station platform, and the swiftly moving train had plowed a furrow of human flesh and bone.

Men who had crossed the tracks were thrown from their feet by the force of the passing train.

Five men and a boy were upon the tracks when the engine reached the crossing. They were hurled through the air, their bodies crushed and maimed almost beyond recognition, some twenty feet away.

Struck by Flying Bodies.

To add to the horror of the scene, the bodies, bleeding from a hundred wounds, were turned into missiles by the rushing train.

Four people, three women and one man, were struck by the flying bodies and severely injured.

Mrs. Daniel Lauer, Mrs. George Fadle and Mrs. H. H. Nadig, wife of Dr. H. H. Nadig, were standing upon the platform, near the rear of the "skoot" train. The women were struck by the bodies and all severely injured.

CLING TO SKIFF TO SAVE LIVES

RACINE, Wis., Nov. 14.—Louis Wagner, aged 30, and Allie Rothering, aged 20, were near death at Burlington, and it took two physicians three or four hours to bring life back into their bodies. The young men own a large sailboat, and they secured an old skiff and started out to get their boat. The skiff struck a submerged stump and it filled with water and sunk. Wagner and Rothering, loaded down with overcoats and heavy boots, were not able to swim, but they clung to the sides of the boat and called for help. Charles Reed and others heard the cries, hurried to their assistance and managed to tow them ashore with another boat.

CHICKEN LIVES ON GRASS AND CLOVER

NEILSVILLE, Wis., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Living for two months without water or food other than dry clover and marsh grass, a chicken was found in the barn of George Crothers by Henry Herian? Another chicken was lying beside it, dead from starvation.

Heriam noticed some chicken feathers protruding through a crack in the side of the barn. He removed a board and found the two chickens imprisoned under several tons of hay that had been placed in the barn two months ago. The chickens were squeezed tight against the boards. The live chicken is being carefully nourished and is expected to live.

SALOONS MUST BUY THEIR OWN FIXTURES

APPLETON, Wis., Nov. 14.—Twenty members of the Northwestern Wisconsin Brewers' association in convention here yesterday signed an ironclad agreement to at once abolish the practice of furnishing saloon men with fixtures, tapping apparatus and novelties. Heretofore, it has been customary for brewers to supply fixtures and tapping apparatus, where exigency demands. The novelties, consisting of prizes given to saloon men for handling a certain beer, or prizes given to saloon men to distribute among the trade, will also be abolished.

SHOT IN EYE BY A STRAY BULLET

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Nov. 14.—Arthur Johnson, aged 12 years, was shot in the eye by a stray bullet in the woods near Menomonie and it has been impossible to remove the bullet which is imbedded in the surface of the brain. It is not believed the boy will live.

REMOVE NEEDLE FROM MAN'S ARM

PORT WASHINGTON, Wis., Nov. 14.—(Special.)—A gold-eyed sewing needle, the point broken, was removed from the left arm of John Gibson, Sr., and physicians are mystified. Mr. Gibson was driving his automobile through town and a sudden pain seized him. An examination of his arm revealed a hard substance under the skin. An incision was made, and the needle was drawn out. Mr. Gibson says he has no recollection of ever swallowing a needle, and cannot account for its presence in his arm.

PROMINENT PHYSICIAN

Says Pneumonia Weather is Here and Cautions Against Common Colds

Just at this particular season also in early spring, when the weather makes sudden and extreme changes, pneumonia is very prevalent (says one of our most prominent physicians) and considering the large percentage of deaths that result from it, being more fatal than small pox, every one should use all precaution to avoid its malignant grip. The large majority of cases of pneumonia are the direct result of an acute or lingering cold, which most people consider trival, but which it is the height of folly to neglect.

The doctor also gives a prescription which he says is probably the most effective known to the profession for the quick relief of coughs, colds and throat troubles. It is as follows:

Two ounces of glycerine; half ounce Concentrated oil of pine; half pint first class whiskey; these to be mixed well and used in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours. The bottle is to be well shaken each time.

This simple preparation can be easily mixed at home, the ingredients being obtainable from any good drug store. Care should be taken to get only the real Concentrated oil of pine which always comes put up for medical use in half ounce vials inclosed in birch wood air-tight cases. The bulk oils and the patent medicine imitations are dangerous owing to their impurities.

Mr. Hauser's Ethelwold herds have taken many prizes at state and county fairs this year.

The jury in its verdict does not place blame on the gang of boys, although several were called as witnesses.

Tropical Fruit That Cures Constipation and Weak Nerves

The Worst Cases of Chronic Constipation, Lost Nerve Power, Kidney and Other Diseases Cured by Remarkable New Remedy.

A real, quick-acting constipation cure and nerve-force builder has been discovered, the results of which have proven remarkable, to say the least.

It is commonly known that heretofore there has not been any treatment which could positively cure constipation and build up nerve-force, or restore lost or weakened nerve-tissue. What treatments have been used, are conceded to be merely temporary stimulants.

Here is a remedy which is not a patent medicine in any sense, is absolutely harmless, contains no narcotics, alcohol or mineral or animal matter, and which anyone can mix at home in a few minutes.

The remedy has a wonderful scope, as it cure not only nerve diseases, such as lost vitality, nervous debility, brain fag and insomnia, but especially chronic constipation, weak back and kidney diseases.

The make up of the remedy is as follows:

Mix one ounce of Obifrut Compound Extract with seven ounces of port wine or unfermented grape juice. Of this mixture, take one dessertspoonful three or four times a day, before each meal and at bedtime.

This remedy has also the power of preventing, to a remarkable extent, the approach of disease, and nerve weakness caused by excess or old age.

We highly recommend this remedy to everyone of our readers. A constant supply of this remedy should should always be kept on hand.

The ingredients can be obtained at almost any drugstore, Obifrut Compound Extract and port wine or unfermented grape juice.
